The broadcast is now starting. All attendees are in “Listen Only” mode.

Hi everybody! Welcome!

This webinar is presented by ERC Academic Advising. My name’s Nadine, I’m a Senior Academic Counselor, and I’m here with Peper who’s also a Senior Academic Counselor. Today we will walk you through the process of choosing your classes using your test scores and transfer work.

We have one hour for this session and we’ll be monitoring questions throughout the webinar so feel free to submit them as we go. We’ll answer your questions at the end.

Keep in mind that we are here to answer general questions regarding choosing courses and you’ll need to work closely with your major department advisors through Online Advising in the New Student Site (http://newstudent.ucsd.edu) if you have specific questions regarding your major.

So let’s get started.
As you might remember, all transfer coursework and test scores were due to UCSD Admissions by July 1st.

Assuming that they were received by that deadline, they should be posted to your record by mid-August. In the meantime, you can start checking on http://tritonlink.ucsd.edu periodically to see if any scores or courses have been posted and we’re going to show you how to do that now.

So let’s go to http://tritonlink.ucsd.edu
Click on the “TritonLink Tools” button.
In the “Grades & transcripts tools” section, click on “Academic History”.
And enter your PID and password. For privacy reasons, we can’t actually access a student’s records to show you for this webinar. So we’ll be showing you an example instead.
In this example, you can see course approximations appear in the academic history. For example, BIOL 210B at San Diego City College approximates as BIBC 103 as well as BILD 1, 2, and 3, which means that those are courses you already have UCSD credit.

“Duplication of Credit” is a very important thing to keep in mind when registering for Fall quarter courses. Some courses will exempt you from specific UCSD courses like these biology courses. Do not enroll in a course if you already have credit for it.

Some of the courses that transfer in will give you credit towards graduation, but will not exempt you from any specific class so at the bottom as you can see Chemistry (CHEM) 231, it just says “LD” which means “Lower Division” but does not approximate to a specific course. You have 4.5 units of lower division credit, but not a specific course.

If you accidentally register for a course you already have credit for, an error message will appear so you need to pay attention to that and then drop that class since you will not receive credit.

Another thing that we’d like to mention is Prerequisites. Some of your transfer courses can be used as prerequisites for courses you may need in Fall quarter for your major. You’ll need to contact your major department advisor through the Online Advising in the New Student Site (http://newstudent.ucsd.edu) if you have any questions regarding your major courses for the Fall quarter.
For courses that haven’t been posted to your record yet, you can use http://assist.org to see how they’ll transfer to UCSD. So we’re going to go to the website Assist.org.
Keep in mind that this website only shows California community colleges.

So from Assist.org, select your community college from the dropdown menu. We’ll use Allan Hancock as an example.
On the next screen, choose “UC San Diego” in the second box. It’s going to be at the bottom of the list.
And then you can search by Department. So let’s look under “Mathematics” as an example from this community college.
The page will load and then we’ll be able to see your classes.

So, for example, if you took MATH 181 at Allan Hancock College, in the right-hand column it shows that it approximates to MATH 10A at UCSD in the left-hand column.
Now we’ll review IGETC & Partial IGETC.

If you haven’t watched the videos that we posted in the New Student Site (http://newstudent.ucsd.edu) yet under the Triton Tutorial page, you’ll need to do that. Be sure to review the “General Education Requirements for Transfers” video and the “Transfer Agreements and GEs” page also as they’ll have information on Transfer Agreements that will be really useful to you.

So if you’re IGETC Certified and you submitted your certification by the July 1st deadline, you may be able to see it posted on your Academic History in the same place as your transfer courses like this example.

Remember, until mid-August, not everything will be posted. Around mid-August, you can go in and check your records again and your information should be mostly, if not entirely, posted. IGETC will be listed alphabetically in the midst of all your transfer courses.
Same thing goes for Partial IGETC. This is what it would look like in your Academic History.

You can see in this example that it shows the area missing as “EX 6”. This indicates that Area 6 of IGETC is missing and you then be able to determine what requirement you will need to complete at UCSD.

If you transferred with IGETC or Partial IGETC, be sure that you’re able to see it posted on your Academic History around mid-August so you get credit for that.
If you missed the July 1st deadline to submit your transfer coursework and IGETC certification, here is the address for the Admissions. I’ll wait for a few seconds in case you want to write it down.

And remember that just because you don’t see classes posted yet, that doesn’t mean they haven’t been received so as long as you submitted them on time you’re fine. But if you missed that deadline, you need to send them.
If you have any AP or IB scores, you can use the “AP/IB Chart” on the ERC website to check for course exemptions. So go to http://roosevelt.ucsd.edu.
You will see the link on the lower left-hand corner.
The AP chart is on the first page above the IB chart. The first column on the left shows the exam, the next column shows the scores. Next to that is the UC units that you will receive based on your score and then you’ll see any course exemptions next to that. In the last column, on the right-hand side, will also list any GEs that you might fulfill.

As you can see, not all AP scores meet GE requirements. But if you received any qualifying score, you will at least receive elective credit.
For IB exams, when you scroll to the next page, you’ll it’s a similar format.

Again, not all IB scores meet GE requirements but you will at least get elective credit for qualifying scores.

Certain qualifying IB scores can exempt you from courses and/or GE requirements. With the exception of the IB English exam, only Higher Level exam scores will be awarded credits.
So, finally, we have these important dates that we want you to remember.

You will get your WebReg appointment time on TritonLink (http://tritonlink.ucsd.edu) on July 31st. There should be a link on main screen in TritonLink for you to find that information.

August 1st and 2nd, we’ll have webinars on how to enroll in classes. These webinars will focus on the WebReg Enrollment system and interpreting your course recommendations.

On August 12th, your college recommendations will be available on the New Student Site (http://newstudent.ucsd.edu). You can use the Online Advising system to contact your major department regarding courses you need for your major.

Around mid-August, most if not all, transfer coursework and certifications should be posted to your Academic History if you were able to submit them by the July 1st deadline.

August 21nd through 25th, you will use WebReg to enroll in your classes. Appointment times are randomly assigned so whenever your appointment time is, you’ll want to register as soon as you can. It’s considered a start-time so you can register on or anytime after your appointment time comes around.
At this time, we will begin our “Question and Answer” portion. So if you have any questions, feel free to submit them, at this time the counselors will be able to answer them.

So that’s all the time that we have. We will be sending out a recorded version of our webinars later on to your UCSD email addresses along with some other important academic information so be sure you check your UCSD email address frequently. Hopefully we will see you all again during our “How to Enroll in Classes” webinars which will be a similar format to this one. Or maybe we’ll see you all in the New Student Site using the Online Advising system. Thanks so much for watching!
