Scrolling further down on the enrollment guidance, you will see multiple fall schedule examples. Please note that the schedules on your enrollment guidance will only be an example of what your plan may look like based on whether you are STEM, Pre-Med, Non-STEM, or Undeclared. Note, it will not be specific to you or to your major.

For detailed course planning for your major or intended major, review your major's Academic Plan on plans.ucsd.edu which will include university, general education, and specific major requirements.

These plans do not take AP, IB, and/or transfer credit into account, so the next step after reviewing the plans website is to review your degree audit, academic history, and/or AP/IB chart to make sure you are not enrolling in courses you already have credit for.

AP Chart/IB Chart

Eleanor Roosevelt College does not have general education requirements to which all AP or IB scores can be applied. As shown under UCSD Course Exemptions, Advanced Placement scores and International Baccalaureate scores can earn elective or prerequisite credit toward some majors and toward graduation requirements.

Please read "Application of AP Credits and IB Units" prior to reviewing charts to understand how to interpret exam scores and credits.

- Students who receive AP or IB credit will not receive credit for an equivalent UCSD course.
- The university grants up to a maximum of 30 quarter unit credits for higher-level IB exams
- Some AP exams are the same subject areas as IB exams. Those are marked in red and students will not receive credit for the same subject areas.

Still need to send your scores? See instructions on how to submit to UC San Diego.

Review your Degree Audit to see how AP, IB, and/or transfer credits apply to your specific degree requirements if your scores have already been posted to your record. If your AP and IB scores have not yet posted, use the ERC AP/IB Chart to determine what requirements you will satisfy with your AP/IB qualifying scores.

Note: AHL may not be updated on your degree audit until after Week 4 of Fall Quarter.

We will not be going into detail today about how to read your degree audit, however, you were sent a link of the webinar recording which includes an extensive breakdown.

Taking these resources into account, we will now show you how to put them together to select your classes.

COGS 10 or DSGN 1	4.0	COGS 1	4.0	COGS 13
GE	4.0

We will be using a Cognitive Science major same plan as an example.

To begin, the student will visit the plans.ucsd.edu website to look at the major's academic plan. As mentioned, the plan will have specific major requirements listed.

To find the appropriate plan:

- The student will select 2022-2023 as the entering year, the major department, and the major code
- Once it's pulled up, the student will reference the first fall quarter under four year plan (or a Three Year Finish plan if applicable) as a guide.

As you can see, the student is recommended to take either MATH 10A or 20A in the fall. This is because the major department will accept either the MATH 10 series or the 20 series. After reviewing their options, the student has decided they would like to do the 10 series. However, the student has taken the AP exam for AB Calculus and will need to determine if they already have credit for the first course in the sequence.

There are two ways the student can check:

1. If their scores are not posted to their Academic History, they would use the AP/IB chart
2. If their scores are posted to their Academic History, they will refer to the degree audit.

Let's take a quick look at an AP/IB Chart example.

AP EXAMPLE:

AP Calculus
AP Exam	Score	Units	UCSD Course Exemptions	ERC General Education
AB Calculus	3	4	MATH 10A	Meets one of two courses required in Quantitative/Formal Skills
	4 or 5	4	MATH 10A or 20A	Meets one of two courses required in Quantitative/Formal Skills

UC San Diego

In the case that the student's scores are not posted, the student will visit ERC's AP/IB chart before enrolling in MATH 10A to confirm if they need the class as they took the AP exam for AB Calculus.

This student earned a 3 on the exam so they will receive 4 units of credit.

For that score, the student finds that they are also exempt from MATH 10A. Therefore, the student will not need to take the course and will continue on in the sequence instead.

In the last column, the student will also see that they will meet ONE of the two courses required for the Quantitative/Formal Skills GE as well. We'll explain this further in the next slide.

Let's return to the major academic plan.

Spring	MMW 13	4.0
	Math 10C if choosing Math 10 series
	COGS 13

Since the student now knows that they do NOT need to take MATH 10, they will instead continue on in the sequence and add MATH 10B.

If you took multiple AP exams, you would repeat these steps for other classes recommended in the first quarter.

In this example, this student did not receive any credit for any other course that was recommended for the first quarter, so as shown, the student would enroll in MMW 11, COGS 10 or DSGN 1, and a GE.

In the previous slide, we mentioned that the student's AP exam score for AB Calculus meets one of the two Quantitative and Formal Skills GE requirements. This is because lower-division courses may overlap between major and GEs so this student's MATH credit will count towards both the lower division major requirement and ERC's lower-division GE. You will see acceptable overlaps marked by double arrow symbol on the plans website.

For students who do have their AP/IB credits posted to their records, you may refer to your degree audit to check what your scores have already given you credit for.

The student from our example has an AP MATH score that is approximated to MATH 10A at UCSD as shown on the student's Academic History.

On the degree audit to the right, it is showing the completion of the MATH 10A requirement for their major.

They will then see how many more courses they need for that requirement and what courses they can take underneath.

Here are a few examples of students with different placement results.

This Molecular and Cell Biology student took a MATH placement exam. Their results indicate that if they need the MATH 20 series, they can enroll in MATH 20A and if they need the MATH 10 series, they can enroll in MATH 10A. The math placement exam will provide results for both series which is why it's important to reference the academic plans website to confirm which series you need for your major.

This student also did not clear ELWR after taking the Analytical Writing Placement Exam (AWPE) so they will need to enroll in AWP 3.

UC San Diego

As a reminder, students who do not have a qualifying test score or transfer course to fulfill the ELWR, must complete the Writing Placement Process (WPP) offered through the UC San Diego Analytical Writing Program before the beginning of your first quarter at UC San Diego. Based on the results, you will be placed in College Writing, AWP 3, or AWP 4A. If you are placed in College Writing, you have fulfilled the ELWR.

If you are placed in an AWP course, you must enroll in the course you are placed into during your first quarter at UC San Diego and can take it in place of a GE.

If you do need to take it, please make sure you account for it in your plan and adjust your schedule accordingly.

In this sample plan, if you need to take AWP, it may be a good idea to replace the GE course with AWP instead as GEs can be more flexible. However, each plan is different so you can make the decision to what best suits your overall plan.

Entry Level Writing Requirement (ELWR)

- If you have not fulfilled the ELWR, you must follow the instructions from the Analytical Writing Program to register and take a writing placement exam before the start of the Fall quarter.
- If you have taken the Writing Placement Process (WPP) and were placed into AWP 3 or 4A, be sure to enroll in the appropriate class in the Fall quarter. Earning a grade of C- or better in AWP 3 or AWP 4B will fulfill the ELWR. You are advised to enroll in no more than 10 units in total while you are enrolled in an ELWR fulfilling course. Please adjust your schedule to accommodate enrollment in your WPP course. Do not waitlist this course unless ALL sections are full. Failure to enroll in the course will forfeit one quarter of ELWR eligibility.
- If you believe you have a test score or course that fulfills the ELWR, please contact the Analytical Writing Program.

Calculus

If your major requires Calculus, refer to Math Testing and Placement for course placement guidance.

Chemistry

If your major requires Chemistry, refer to Chemistry FAQs for course placement guidance.

General Education

- Use the Fall GE Sheet for course options. Visit the General Education website for more information.
- LANGUAGE: Review ERC's Language Requirement webpage. If you have not met the language requirement with one of the six options listed on the webpage, we recommend that you continue in a language you've previously studied and take a language placement exam. Students proficient in a foreign language visit the Language Program Proficiency Exam webpage. The Language Program offers Heritage Languages (Armenian, Hindi, Korean, Persian, and Vietnamese) for those students who grew up speaking a foreign language at home. One upper-division Heritage Language course (LHL) will meet the ERC Language requirement.

Sample Enrollment Guidance: Important Notes

Important Notes:

- Enroll in 12-16 units (3-4 courses) for a letter grade unless you are certain the Pass/Not Pass option is permissible.
- Do not waitlist any classes unless they are absolutely required (i.e., MMW 11 or courses for your major) or instructed by the academic department. There is no guarantee that you will be added from the waitlist (check your @ucsd email for updates from the department).
- We will be reviewing your course selections after you enroll, and notifying you via the VAC. It is your responsibility to check your email for VAC notifications and follow the instructions provided.
- All mandatory registration fees and tuition must be paid in full by the deadline or you'll be dropped from your classes and waitlists. Review the Enrollment and Registration Fee deadlines Calendar.
- If you have taken a UC transferable college-level course(s), send your official transcript to UCSD Office of Admissions by the transcripts deadline that is listed on the Triton Checklist.

For prerequisite coursework (transcripts or AP/IB) not officially posted at your time of enrollment, submit an EASy \(Enrollment Authorization System\) to the corresponding academic department/program. Make sure to "Run" a new Degree Audit to view the most updated version.
- Questions about the Fall 2023 Schedule of Classes, please find the answers on the FAQ webpage.

UC San Diego

Using all these resources and following the steps in your enrollment guidance, you will be able to create a fall quarter schedule and enroll in the correct classes. At the bottom of the enrollment guidance, there are additional notes to review as you are enrolling. All the information included is extremely important and will help create a smooth enrollment process for you.

2-Pass Enrollment Process

UC San Diego

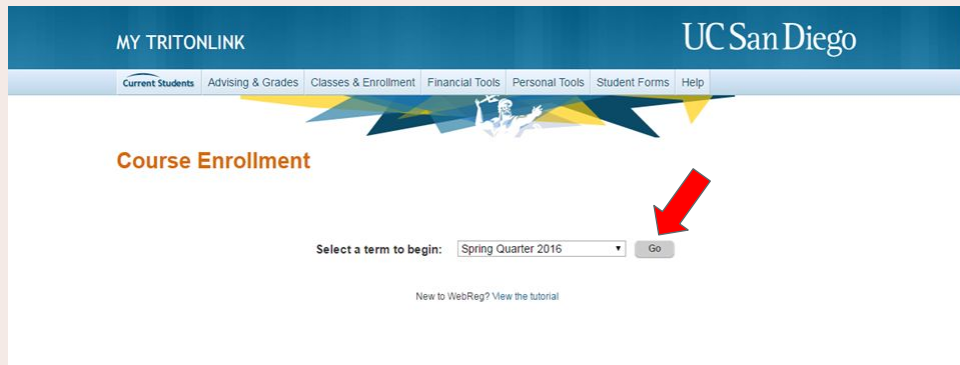

We'll now go over the two-pass enrollment system. Students will be enrolling in two separate appointment times. The two-pass enrollment process helps to ensure that all students have the opportunity to enroll in required pre-major, major, and GE courses.

You will need to check for your first and second pass appointment times for the next quarter on WebReg. Your appointment times for Fall quarter enrollment are again, going to be released on August 14th, but for future reference, the date of when enrollment appointment times are viewable for the following quarters can be found on the Enrollment and Registration calendar.

We'll quickly review how to find your appointment times via WebReg:

Once you are logged into your MyTritonLink, scroll over the “Classes and Enrollment” tab and click “WebReg” from the drop-down menu.

Make sure to select the appropriate quarter you want to register for from the drop-down list and press “Go”.

A window will then pop up with your two separate enrollment appointment times. One is designated for your first pass and the other for your second pass. They are generally spaced about two weeks apart. Please note that your appointment times for your first quarter are randomized and you cannot request a different time.

It's extremely important for you to check your enrollment appointment times because if you do not enroll in classes during your first pass, you will have to wait until second pass to enroll in any classes.

Enrollment Limitations

- You are allowed to enroll in:
 - 11.5 units during the first pass (not allowed to waitlist)
 - 19.5 units, including wait-listed courses, during the second pass up until the first day of instruction.
 - If you do not enroll during your first pass appointment, you must wait until your second pass appointment.
- Starting the first day of instruction, you may enroll in up to 22 units, including wait-listed courses.

UC San Diego

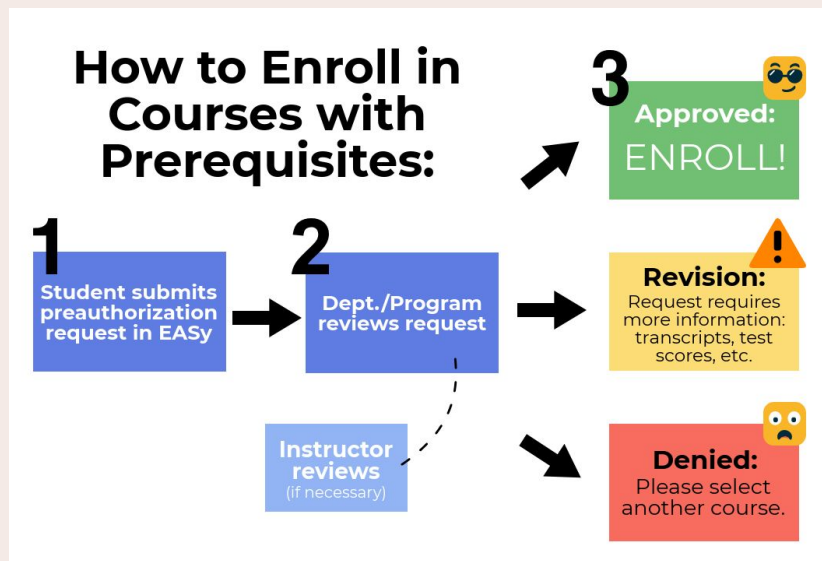

First pass appointment times will have a “start” and an “end” date and time. During your first pass, you will only have a 48-hour window to enroll in up to 11.5 units. Additionally, you may not waitlist a course during your first pass.

During your second pass, you will be able to enroll and waitlist in up to 19.5 units. Keep in mind that you should be enrolled in at least 12 units (not including waitlisted courses) to be considered a full-time student for the quarter. This is especially important for International Students, Student Athletes, if you’re receiving any form of Financial Aid including VA Benefits, and/or are living on-campus.

Starting on the first day of classes, you may add or waitlist up to 22 units.

Enrollment Authorization System (EASy)

UC San Diego

* Graphic by UCSD Summer Session

The Enrollment Authorization System (EASy) is a tool that students may be using throughout their time at UCSD for enrollment purposes.

This system is for students who need to request exceptions to prerequisites must submit a request through the Enrollment Authorization System (EASy). Some classes may require departmental approval. To enroll in these classes, you should also submit an EASy request.

EASy will open for requests on Friday, August 18. This will allow students 10 calendar days to submit and review requests before first pass enrollment starts. Please be sure to only submit an EASy request if you need it. It's always good idea to plan your classes before your enrollment time, so please use the calendar tool on WebReg to get started once you receive your appointment time. If you need to submit an EASy request, you will be prompted on WebReg when you are trying to plan and/or add the class.

How do I know what to enroll in for each pass?

Many of you are probably wondering how to plan out which courses you should enroll in for which pass. To determine the best option, here are some strategy questions to ask yourself when you're planning out your courses.

Questions to ask yourself to help you decide when to enroll!

- How many lectures are being offered? (More lectures means more opportunities to enroll in second pass)
- Total number of students allowed to enroll? (Smaller sections may fill up faster)
- Who is teaching the course? If it's a popular course or professor, it can fill up quickly.
- How often course is the course offered? (Do you need it this quarter?)
 - You should first pass MMW courses since they are only offered in certain quarters and/or AWP 4A or 3 since you need to clear your ELWR as soon as possible
- Is this course a prerequisite or part of a sequence? Do I need to take it this quarter to stay on track?

By asking yourself these questions and actively monitoring WebReg, you should be able to determine the order in which you enroll in courses.

If you are unfamiliar with WebReg, please watch the step-by-step tutorial on how to use WebReg to ensure that you are familiar with the system and are enrolling correctly and so you are able to find your enrollment appointment times when those are released.

Letter Grade vs. Pass/No Pass

Letter Grade Option:

- All courses default to Letter Grade on WebReg
- Grade counts in Grade Point Average (GPA)
 - Grading Scale: A to F
- Most major courses must be taken for letter grade
- All MMW courses must be taken for letter grade
- Regional Specialization:
 - 2 of the 3 courses must be letter grade

We recommend taking all of your first quarter courses as letter grade. Consult with ERC Academic Advising and your major department by Week 6 to determine if P/NP is appropriate for the course.

UC San Diego

When you enroll in courses on WebReg, all grading options are defaulted to Letter Grade. UCSD has two grading options: Letter Grade and Pass / No Pass. We went over this in a previous webinar so here is a brief refresher.

A Letter grade reflects your performance in a class and results in grade points that count toward your GPA. Students can earn up to an A or as low as an F. UCSD does not differentiate between A's and A+'s.

Keep in mind that most majors and graduate school requirements must be taken for letter grade. For ERC GE requirements, all MMW courses and some of your Regional Specialization must be taken for letter grade.

We recommend that you take all your first quarter courses as letter grade so you can get an idea of what level of work is considered a passing grade.

Consult with ERC Academic Advising and your major department during the quarter before Friday of Week 6 if you have questions about your grading options.

Please note that Long-Term Planning Appointments are not available to First Year Students until the Winter Quarter. Refer to the ERC Academic Advising website and your Major department's website for advising hours and availabilities.

Online Advising is also available 24/7 via the Virtual Advising Center (VAC). You can submit a brief, general question and an academic advisor will respond within 1-2 business days. Online advising is a great way to get quick questions answered.
